SECRETARY.

The famous petroleum springs of Greece, described by a historian four centuries before Christ, are to be exploited by local capitalists after being regarded merely as curiosities for more than 2300 years.

"I have seven wives," explained the unspokable Turk to the interviewer. "Great Caesar! How do you manage to pay your dressmaker's bills?"

"I married dressmakers, son of an infidel."—Philadelphia Ledger.

SAVE A DOLLAR

Twelfth Annual Bargain Offer of Ohio State Journal, Making Sweeping Reduction in Subscription Price.

Throughout the month of January, 1915, the Twelfth Annual Bargain Offer of the Ohio State Journal will be in effect.

Ohio newspaper readers who are supplied with mail by rural carriers and those who reside in small towns where the Ohio State Journal does not maintain an agency will have an opportunity to secure one year's subscription by mail for only Two Dollars.

It seems remarkable that as big and complete a newspaper as the Ohio State Journal can be offered at such a low price. Inasmuch as there has been an advance in every other line, it was hardly to be expected that the management of the Ohio State Journal would consider a reduction at this time.

However, the price is not only reduced during January, but the further announcement is made that in future the Monday issues will contain the same comic pages that appear in the Sunday Ohio State Journal.

This means the introduction of a feature that will be highly appreciated by both old and young. You will have a chance to get acquainted with the Katzenjammer family, Happy Hooligan, Jimmy and his papa, Cousin Willie and other celebrated comic characters. It will be a big treat and you will enjoy it.

From a news standpoint the Ohio State Journal has a big advantage over other publications. It is the only morning newspaper published in Columbus or central Ohio and is therefore in position to furnish its readers with a newspaper on the day it is published.

The Ohio State Journal owns the Associated Press morning franchise in the Columbus district and is also represented by a large staff of state correspondents, whose duty it is to supply the news from their respective sections. The Associated Press is conceded to be the greatest news-gathering association in the world and its service covers the entire globe.

The condition of the weather materially affects the business of the farmer and it is therefore necessary that he be supplied with a daily weather report. The Weather Map and Weather Observations appearing in the Ohio State Journal are issued 12 hours later than those furnished afternoon newspapers, dated for the next day, making the Ohio State Journal reports of real value to all who are engaged in agricultural pursuits.

Those interested in securing the actual close of the Grain, Live Stock and Produce Markets will appreciate the excellent market page provided by the Ohio State Journal.

Subscriptions may be sent to this office or mailed direct to the Ohio State Journal, Columbus, O. Remember that commencing Feb. 1 the regular rate will be restored.

Christmas Presents.

It is always difficult to select a suitable Christmas present for a young man. What would be nicer for him than a fine "Neverout Lamp" for his buggy? Any buggy owner would be tickled to death with such a present. See the ad. elsewhere in this paper.

Of all human achievements, surely the motion picture most unerringly expresses that idea of service to our fellow men which is the spirit of Christmas. Without regard to creed or sect, to all mankind it carries a message of life, love and laughter. Therefore at this season of rejoicing we give thanks as exhibitors that we are enabled to play such a part in promoting the happiness of those we serve. We daily give, by the very nature of our exhibitions, new cheer to our fellow men. In so doing, we fulfill, to the highest degree, the spirit of Christmas. To our many patrons who have remained so loyal to us, we extend our heartfelt thanks for your liberal patronage. Our aim for the New Year shall be to still retain that high standard of quality for which our theatre enjoys an enviable reputation.

Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year, we remain

Your faithful servant,

She Eloped Against Her Will

This is just what happened to Dorothy Borreigh (Ruth Stonehouse) when she went to the steamer with Frank Melbourne (Francis Bushman) an old sweetheart, who was fleeing from a supposed crime that he thought he had committed. Dorothy lingered too long on the boat, and was carried to sea. It would spoil a good story to tell you any more. This beautiful drama in the hands of such capable actors as Francis Bushman and Ruth Stonehouse, however is going to make good entertainment at the ORPHEUM
